4. Rule 20-B—Mileage for journeys performed by officers of Grade V and below between two places connected by a regular public motor service.*—The Government have, in view of the representations made, decided to amend the rule suitably.

5. Rule 25—Introduction of a pass system for journeys by rail in lieu of the certificate by Government servants of the class by which they travelled.*—Prior to the issue of rule 25, the Government had considered the question of adopting for all Government servants the warrant system which is now in force for the subordinate ranks of the Police Department and had dropped it on the ground that it would result in an increase in correspondence and in expenditure out of all proportion to the advantage gained. As the object aimed at by the pass system has been secured by the new rule 25, the Government have decided that no further action is necessary in the matter.

6. Rule 43 (d)—Conditions relating to the number of servants and excess baggage necessary for drawing actual expenses.*—As a result of the representations made, the Government have decided to delete this clause. They have also decided that it is not necessary to allow Government servants of Grade X to draw actual expenses under rule 43 in view of the fact that such Government servants are eligible only for third-class fares for journeys by rail and are not expected to take camp establishments on tour.

7. Rule 45-A—Actual expenses when hired motor transport is employed for convenience of personal servants and baggage.*—After a full examination of all relevant circumstances, the Government have decided to amend the rule as shown in the annexure to these proceedings.

8. Amendment I to Travelling Allowance Rules—Grading of officers of the same class in one group irrespective of pay.—The pay actually drawn was adopted as the criterion for the grading of Government servants for purposes of travelling allowance when the Madras Travelling Allowance Rules were issued in the year 1922 and it has resulted not only in a great simplification of the rules but also in the sweeping out of many inequalities. The Government are not prepared to make any change in the present system. They are not also prepared to comply with the representation specifically made on behalf of District Health Officers and Assistant Engineers of the Electricity Department of Grade V to be reckoned as Grade IV officers for purposes of road mileage.

9. Amendment I to the Travelling Allowance Rules—Reduction in daily allowances.*—The Government see no reason to comply with the recommendation of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies that Sub-Deputy Registrars drawing a pay of Rs. 160 be granted a daily allowance higher than that to which their pay entitles them. The question, however, whether it is necessary to increase the number of special localities where travelling is unusually expensive, e.g., Madras City, is under separate consideration.

10. Amendment V to the Travelling Allowance Rules—Classification of the Wynand taluk and the Tenasally and Barisal Ghaut Forests as Class II special tracts.*—The Government see no reason to include the Wynand taluk in Class I tracts as suggested by the Chief Conservator of Forests. His suggestion regarding the Tenasally and Barisal Ghaut forests is under separate examination.

11. Special treatment of officers of the Electricity Department in the matter of journeys not exceeding 24 miles and exemption of Forest Department officers from the payment of rent for occupying travellers' bungalows.—The Government see no reason for any special treatment in either of these cases.

12. The Madras Travelling Allowance Rules will be amended as shown in the annexure to these proceedings, in accordance with the Government's decisions in paragraphs 2, 4, 6 and 7 above.

ANNEXURE

AMENDMENTS TO THE MADRAS TRAVELLING ALLOWANCE RULES.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Fundamental Rule 44 and in pursuance of the provisions of Fundamental Rule 3, the Governor in Council and the Governor acting with the Ministers hereby direct that the following amendments be made to the Madras Travelling Allowance Rules:—

II. Rule 25-B.—The following shall be substituted for the existing rule:—

"25-B (3) When a journey is performed by a Government servant of Grade V or below between two places connected by a regular public motor service he shall draw mileage at half the ordinary rates admissible under rule 24 (4), or at half the enhanced rates admissible under rule 41 for journeys in special localities, or the actual fare of the lowest class, whichever is higher, plus 2 paise per mile in the case of Government servants of Grades VIII to XV inclusive; provided that, in exceptional cases, when a journey is performed by a Government servant of Grade

Under S.O. 41 of the Standing Orders of the Madras Legislative Council, the following report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Madras Estates Land Act, 1908 (Bill No. 12 of 1931) together with the Bill as amended by the Select Committee, is published:—

BILL No. 12 OF 1931.

A Bill further to amend the Madras Estates Land Act, 1908, for certain purposes.

En

THE HONOURABLE THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR OF MADRAS.

W^h the Members of the Select Committee appointed to consider the Bill further to amend the Madras Estates Land Act, 1908, for certain purposes (Bill No. 12 of 1911), have the honour to submit the following report.

2. The Bill was published in the Fort St. George Gazette—in English on 28th July 1931, in Tamil on 30th February 1932, in Telugu on 5th January 1932, in Kannara on 23rd February 1932, and in Hindustani on 9th February 1932.

3. At our first meeting which was held on the 29th of February 1932, it was resolved that a meeting of the Committee should be held at Ootacamund on the 25th May 1932 for the consideration of the Bill. We accordingly met at Ootacamund on the 25th May 1932, but as several Members of the Committee including the Advocate-General were absent, we adjourned to meet again at Madras on the 15th of July 1932. We then met at Madras on the 15th, 16th, 18th, 20th, 21st and 22nd July 1932, on the 26th, 27th, 28th and 31st August 1932 and on the 25th and the 27th September 1932 for the consideration of the clauses of the Bill. On the 27th September 1932, we passed our report.

4. We have subjected the clauses of the Bill to a detailed and careful scrutiny. In the amendments we have made we have kept in view the consideration that as far as possible the main principles on which the original Act of 1908 has been based should not be departed from.

5. The chief amendments made by us are mentioned below.

6. Clause 2 (section 3)—Sub-clause (1).—The Bill seeks to add a definition of the term 'Collector' in addition to the definition of 'Revenue Officer' already existing in the Act. This addition is sought to be made because the term 'Collector' is used in the Act in several places in a sense different from that in which the term 'District Collector' is used, the latter being generally used in the sense of the chief local officer in charge of the revenue administration of the district as defined in the General Clauses Act. We have examined the necessity for the use of the various terms 'Revenue Officer,' 'Collector' and 'District Collector' in the Act and have come to the conclusion that the use of the term 'Revenue Officer' can well be dispensed with. We have accordingly deleted the definition of 'Revenue Officer' and have removed that expression from all places in the Act in which it is used, and substituted therefor the word 'Collector.'

7. Clause 2 (section 3).—

(i) *Sub-clause (2).—*In the Bill as introduced, an important change was sought to be made in sub-clause (4) of clause (2) of section 3—definition of an immovable estate—by the provision that every pre-settlement immovable shall be an estate. The onset of proof of occupancy rights in such an estate has now become fairly settled by decisions of the highest courts and the amendment proposed had the effect of affecting such onset of proof. We consider that it is undesirable to make so important an alteration of the law in this respect and have therefore decided to retain the existing sub-clause (4). We have, however, deleted from that sub-clause the last words 'or any separated part of such village' as the policy of the Act is not to recognize anything less than a village as an estate.

(ii) *Sub-clause (3).—*The Bill proposed to alter the definition of 'holding' so as to include in it a tree or trees held under a single patta in a village, apart from the land on which they stood. We consider that the inclusion of trees in the definition of 'holding' will give rise to complications as the provisions of the chapters relating to enhancement, reduction and commutation of rent, and the summary remedies for the recovery of rent will then become applicable to such trees and the rent due in respect of them. We have therefore restored the old definition of a holding. But we have amended section 134 so as to enable a landholder to sue before a Collector for the rent due to him on a tree or trees held on a separate patta, independently of the land on which it or they stand, and we think that no further provision is called for in respect of trees held on separate pattas.

(iii) *Sub-clause (4).—*The explanation which was sought to be added to clause (5) of section 3 was intended to get rid of the effect of such decisions as I.L.R., 44 Mad., 677, in which a mahar darrima landholder had been held to be a landholder within the meaning of the Act. The explanation is originally drafted, however, applied only to grantees under any grant made on or after the 1st of January 1908. The fixing of the first of January 1908 was not of much use, as few dawala manas have been granted after that date. We have now extended the explanation to all grants of manas subsequent to the date of the Madras Permanent Regulation, 1802, viz., 15th July 1802. We have also so drafted the explanation as to make its intention and meaning clearer.

(iv) Sub-clause (5).—In clause (7) of section 3, in the definitions of 'old waste,' 'private land' and 'ryoti land', we have made various changes so as to make their contents clearer.

8. Clause 4 (section 6).—(i) Explanation to sub-section (2).—Under the existing law and according to the provisions of the Bill as introduced, where a person is in unauthorized occupation of a ryoti land other than old waste, receipt of rent or recovery of damages from him under section 45 without filing a suit for ejectment before a Collector within two years of such receipt or recovery of payment or first of such payments if more than one, has the effect of admission of such person to such land as a ryot. As in the kindred provision contained in section 163 a trespasser is liable to be ejected by a suit in a civil court, we think that the suit referred to in this explanation should also be in a civil court and not before a Collector. We have accordingly substituted for the words 'before a Collector' the words 'in a civil court.'

(ii) In sub-section (3) of section 6 we have made it clear that in their application to horticultural or orchard lands, the provisions of that sub-section are limited to cases where the land is reserved locus fide by the landholder for raising a garden or grove.

9. Clause 6 (section 7).—Section 7 of the Act, which refers to mining rights, conveys the idea that if a landholder does not reserve mining rights when admitting a ryot to any ryoti land, the mining rights would vest in the ryot. The Bill as introduced proposed to make it clear that admission to ryoti land did not by itself confer any mining rights on the land. But in accordance with our policy not to touch in this Bill the principles underlying the Act unless it is absolutely necessary to do so, we have left the old section as it is, unchanged.

10. Clause 7.—Under the existing law where the kadivaram right in a land has passed to the landholder by inheritance after the passing of the Estates Land Act, 1948, the landholder has the right for a period of 12 years from the date of succession of admitting any person to the possession of such land on such terms as may be agreed upon between him and the tenant. The Bill did not contain any positive or affirmative provision in regard to such cases, although the addition of the words "otherwise than by inheritance" in sub-section (1) of section 8 had the effect of excluding such a case from the provision regarding the merger of the kadivaram right in the landholder's interest. We have thought it better to retain section 8 (4) as it stands in this respect, making only such alterations therein as are necessitated by the fact that a portion of the sub-section has worked itself out by the lapse of 12 years from the passing of the Act.

11. Clause 11.—(i) We have redrafted the provisions relating to lankas so as to bring out as clearly as possible the underlying intention. According to the scheme as finally approved by us, lankas fall under three categories—

- (1) those in which occupancy rights exist;
- (2) those in which no occupancy rights exist but which are declared by the Collector to be old waste; and
- (3) those not falling under either of the above-mentioned categories.

(ii) We have expressly provided that occupancy rights can be acquired in lankas by custom, by grant or by continuous possession for a period of 12 years for the purpose of agriculture. If any dispute arises whether in any lanka land there does or does not exist any occupancy right, the District Collector will, on the application of the landholder or any other person interested, give a decision which, subject to the result of any suit that may be instituted in a civil court by the aggrieved party, will be final. As regards other lankas, the District Collector will have power, on the application of a landholder or other person interested, or of his own motion, and subject to the rules made by the Local Government, to declare any lanka in which occupancy rights do not exist to be old waste, thus enabling tenants of such lands to obtain occupancy rights in their holding under section 46 of the Act by payment of two and a half times the annual rent. We have expressly provided that lands which are an accretion to the private land of the landholder should be deemed to be private land, which the Collector cannot classify as old waste.

(16) We have only to add that in enacting these provisions we have had regard to the consciousness of the parties and the prevailing practice in Government lands, rather than to the strict application of the law of accretions in its entirety.

12. We welcome the provisions which empower the Collector in certain cases to divert any land which is not required for the particular communal purpose for which it was originally intended, to some other communal purpose. Not in view of the fact that tank beds are excluded from the operation of the existing section 29 of the Act, we have specifically provided that where the reversionary rights in a tank-bed vest in the landholder, its character as a tank-bed should not be altered except with his consent.

13. As beds and bonds of tanks and of supply, drainage, surplus and irrigation channels have been treated in the Bill as communal lands, and, as on account of such treatment the provisions of section 21 of the Act relating to eviction of persons occupying communal lands will become applicable to such lands, we have thought it necessary in the interests of the landholder to provide that the title to such lands acquired prior to the 1st day of July 1912 shall be protected and that the section shall not have retrospective operation.

14. In the Bill as introduced there was a provision empowering the Collector to acquire lands for any communal purpose in cases in which he was satisfied that no land was set aside for such a purpose or that any land already set apart was inadequate for such purpose. The procedure provided in the Bill for such acquisition was for the Collector to direct the landholder to acquire the land in question under section 186 and if he failed to do so, himself to apply under that section for the acquisition of the land as if he were a landholder. Provision was made for the recovery of the cost of such acquisition from the various parties benefited thereby. Where the land in question was at the disposal of the landholder himself, the Collector could order the land to be set apart for the communal purpose and order compensation to be paid to him. Section 184 provides for cases of acquisition of land by a landholder for building or other purposes relating to the good of the estate. The procedure provided in that section is for the Collector to give a certificate that the landholder desires to acquire a land for a reasonable and sufficient purpose and for the landholder, thereafter to apply to the principal civil court for an order authorizing such acquisition and directing the persons entitled to it to sell it to the landholder. We consider that there should be a uniform procedure for acquisitions both under section 20 B (numbered in the Bill as revised by us as section 20 C) and under section 184, that in both the cases the acquisition should be made by the Collector, and that the procedure of acquisition should as far as possible be assimilated to the procedure of acquisition under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894. We have accordingly reframed the proposed section 20 B and section 184 so as to make the machinery of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, applicable to acquisition proceedings under this Act.

13. Clause 14.—The Bill contained a provision enabling a landholder before executing an improvement to enter into a contract with the ryot for payment of additional rent in consideration of such improvement, provided that the contract was sanctioned by the Collector as reasonable. We have considered it desirable to hedge in this provision with further restrictions, and have accordingly provided that such a contract to be enforceable should have been sanctioned by the Collector before the improvement was undertaken and that the Collector should afterwards be satisfied that the improvement agreed upon has been effected. Even then he is given power to grant only such enhancement not exceeding the additional rent mentioned in the contract as he finds reasonable.

14. Under the Bill as introduced, claims for enhancement of rent and for reduction of rent could be made before Collectors by means of applications made to them instead of suits instituted before them. This remedy by application did not, however, extend to expropriation proceedings. We have considered it desirable to extend the remedy by application, instead of by suit, to expropriation proceedings also. Under the Bill as introduced, no appeal had been provided from a decree allowing expropriation, but we have thought it desirable to allow an appeal even in cases where the Collector allows expropriation.

17. Clauses 42 and 43.—We have omitted these clauses as we do not think that the additional provisions introduced by these clauses in regard to the procedure of applications for appraisement, division or determination of produce, are necessary.

18. In clause 44, a provision had been introduced making the Collector's order on the aforesaid application final. We have thought it desirable to introduce an exception to this finality in the case where the Collector's decision involves a determination of the question whether rent is payable by division or appraisement, or whether any rent is payable at all.

19. Clauses 61 and 62 (sections 126-A and 127).—We approve of the provision allowing a landholder purchaser to set off against the purchase money payable by him the arrears of rent in respect of which he brought the holding to sale, but have made it clear that where he is so allowed to set off, he shall pay the poundage recoverable under section 127 (1).

20. Clauses 53 and 53.—These clauses have been so altered as to make it clear that the liability of the defaulting purchaser for payment of any deficiency in price on a resale, will only arise after an order is passed by the Collector for payment of such deficiency after notice to and hearing the objections, if any, of the defaulting purchaser and not on a mere report of the selling officer that a deficiency has arisen.

21. Clause 59.—We have deleted the proposed section 131-A as we consider that the summary procedure of an application before a Revenue court within one month of the sale is not a suitable remedy in cases where a sale held under this chapter is questioned on the ground of fraud or material irregularity. We consider that the existing law by which a sale can be questioned by a suit within the period allowed by the law of limitation is more satisfactory.

22. Clauses 71 to 80.—We have made several important changes in this chapter. According to the Bill as introduced, a ryot could apply to the proper Revenue officer for an order restraining a landholder from increasing the syauat on the ground that such increase would prejudice the cultivation in the customary manner of the lands already under irrigation. On such application the officer to whom the application was made could restrain the landholder from increasing the syauat and also order payment of compensation for any loss sustained by the ryot. We consider that a more appropriate and effective provision would be one prohibiting the landholder from increasing the syauat without the sanction of a competent officer and enabling him on application to obtain such sanction. The procedure which we have provided to achieve this result is, in substance, as follows:—

(1) A landholder as well as a ryot can apply to the proper Revenue Officer for the determination of the syauat under an irrigation work.

(2) A landholder can apply to the proper Revenue officer for an extension of the syauat by the inclusion of new lands therein while a ryot can equally apply to him for the exclusion of any land therefrom and its reclassification as dry. Where a land is so reclassified the officer concerned can determine the rate of rent to be paid on the land so reclassified and in doing so, he shall have due regard to the rates prevailing for similar lands, if any, with similar advantages in the neighbourhood.

(3) The officer can allow an extension of the syauat only in cases where he finds that such extension will not prejudice the irrigation in the customary manner of the lands in the syauat while he can allow reclassification of a wet land as dry only when it has not been possible to irrigate the land in question or any portion of it for at least six years before the date of the application.

(4) The remedies under the Act will be exclusive and civil courts will not have jurisdiction to try matters which can be decided by the Revenue authorities under this chapter.

23. The other important alterations made by us to this chapter are—

(1) We have deleted that part of the explanation to proposed section 126 according to which the encroachment on or the contraction of the bed of a tank was a disrepair and the acquisition of land which originally formed part of the bed where such acquisition was necessary was included in the term 'repair'. We do not consider that any statutory provision is necessary in regard to this matter.

(2) In cases where ryots are authorised under section 132 (2) to execute any works, if the works or any part of them require technical supervision or if any other special reason exists the Revenue officer has been empowered to carry out such works through Government officers on deposit by the ryots, of their estimated cost.

(3) We have placed a restriction on the discretion of the Collector to recover in a lump sum the cost of repairs from a landholder by providing that the amount payable by the landholder in any one year shall not exceed the annual rent of the wet extent of the irrigation work concerned. The result is that where the cost of repairs exceeds such rent, the officer cannot but order payment in instalments.

(4) We have provided that, if in accordance with the orders passed by the officer concerned, an irrigation work is not carried out either by the landholder or by the ryots within the time fixed or within such further time as may be granted, the ryots concerned may apply to the officer concerned for a temporary reduction of rent until the work has been carried out and that the officer may then direct such temporary reduction of the rent in each case as he thinks fair and equitable.

(5) With a view to prevent doubts and confusion in the application of the provisions of this chapter to an irrigation work serving more than one estate, we have provided that the local Government shall have power to make rules for regulating the procedure to be adopted in regard to the repairs of such work, for determining and adjusting the rights and liabilities of the landholders and ryots concerned, and for the recovery of the cost of carrying out the repairs. We have deleted the provision enabling a landholder to recover contribution from another landholder in cases where he has effected an improvement to an irrigation work resulting in improved irrigation to the estate of the latter, leaving it to him to enter into an agreement with the latter, before undertaking the improvement in question.

(6) We have rearranged the sections of this chapter in a more logical order than at present.

24. Clauses 80 to 82.—We have altered the heading of this chapter from 'Illegal exactions' into 'Recovery of Excess Payments', and have placed it, in what is more legitimately its position, viz., immediately after Chapter VI which relates to the recovery of rent. Under proposed section 141 of the Bill as introduced, a landholder was liable to be mulcted with a penalty even in cases where he had simply and even unwillingly 'taken' or 'received' a payment in excess of rent, from a ryot paying it voluntarily. We consider this to be unfair and have restricted the penalty under section 141 to cases of exactions of excess payments.

25. Clauses 83 and 84—Sections 143 and 146.—We have redrafted these clauses so as to provide for separate registry in all possible cases of subdivision and transfer of holdings. In doing so, we have made a new provision for cases in which an application for transfer of registry is made by a transferee alone and for cases where the title of a person in a holding has been established in a suit to which the transferor and the transferee are parties. In regard to subdivisions, we have, instead of describing in the section itself the circumstances under which a landholder is bound to recognise such subdivisions, provided for the making of rules for the recognition of subdivisions. In the place of the provision enabling a landholder to refuse recognition of a subdivision except on payment or tender of the arrears of rent, if any, due for a holding, we have inserted a provision by which the transfer or subdivision of a holding will not absolve it or any part of it from liability for any rent which had accrued due prior to the transfer or subdivision. We have expressly saved the right of suit in a civil court for establishing or setting aside any transfer or for enforcing any claim based on a devolution by operation of law.

26. Clause 86 (section 151).—Section 151 which was proposed to be substituted for the existing section 151 though intended only to improve the drafting, had the effect of widening the landholder's power of ejectment of an occupying ryot. We have therefore resolved to retain the existing section in preference to the proposed section.

27. Clause 91.—New section 153-A.—The recognition as a ryot of every person who occupies ryot land for a continuous period of twelve years necessitates the addition of a distinct provision in this section to the effect that it will not be open to the defendant in a suit under this section to plead that he has, since the institution of the suit, acquired title by virtue of continuous occupation for twelve years of the land in question.

28. Clause 91 (section 164).—(i) We consider that there is no objection to a survey of a portion of an estate which is less than a village and as the Local Government have discretion to direct or not to direct a survey to be made, we have not considered it necessary to retain the newly added words 'consisting of one or more entire villages.' We have therefore restored the existing section in this respect.

(ii) As we consider that a record of rights should include a record of any special rights which by law or by custom the ryots may have in the waste land of the estate (vide section 6 (2) as amended by clause 4) we have added these words in section 164.

29. Clause 92 (section 166).—In section 166, sub-section (3), we have likewise omitted the words 'each portion being one or more entire villages' which were proposed to be newly added to it.

30. Clause 99 (section 175).—We approve of the provision of the Bill doing away with the power of any Revenue officer specially empowered by the Local Government to correct done file mistakes made by himself or by any other Revenue officer not superior to him, but have assimilated the provision for the correction of mistakes to the corresponding provision of the Civil Procedure Code which refers to the correction of clerical or arithmetical mistakes or errors arising from any accidental slip or omission.

31. Clause 124 (section 211).—Section 211 of the Act, as it stands, excludes the application of sections 19 and 20 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, to suits and proceedings under the Act. The Bill sought to make those sections applicable to them. The exclusion in 1908 of sections 19 and 20 of the Indian Limitation Act from section 211 was deliberate and due to a desire to give definiteness and certainty to claims made under the Act, especially claims for rent. We consider it undesirable to extend the period of limitation for suits and applications under this Act on grounds stated in sections 19 and 20 of the Limitation Act, and have accordingly excluded those sections from the operation of section 211 of this Act.

32. We have made numerous other changes in the clauses of the Bill and the schedule thereto but for reasons of space we have not referred to them in detail. They are all shown in the annexed copy of the Bill as revised by us.

33. We consider that the Bill as amended by us requires republication.

* Subject to a Notice of Absence.

MINUTE OF DISSENT.

Having sat long hours at the Select Committee considering this Bill, I am sorry I have become more and more impressed with the absence of any overwhelming necessity for it. So far as I can see, the present Bill, in spite of its 129 odd clauses, does not deal with any matter in which either the zamindars or the ryots were keen on obtaining an alteration of the law. It does not affect the essential relations between the landholders and the ryots and is not likely to satisfy either.

2. As a lawyer I cannot reconcile myself to dealing with lankas without reference to any of the accepted principles of the law of mortgages. The provisions in the Bill regarding lankas will do no good to the ryots as, after the passing of this Act, no landholder will allow any tenant to remain in possession of a lanka for more than twelve years. It has only the effect of expressing the landholder where out of sentiment or kindness he has already allowed a ryot to remain in possession of a lanka for over twelve years.

3. The Bill has introduced far-reaching changes in the Chapter on Irrigation; but I am afraid that most of the provisions will remain a dead letter. I would therefore not have objected to them had it not been for the fact that at the close of the sittings of the Committee, an amendment was introduced to the effect that if in accordance with the orders passed under this chapter, repairs are not carried out, the Collector may order a temporary reduction of rent until they are carried out. This provision for the temporary reduction of rent for non-execution of repairs introduces a novel principle into the Estates Land Act, viz., that of temporary remissions or abatements of rent during what may be described as a period of entleassement.

4. One of the provisions of the Act which every landholder has been anxious to get amended is that preventing him from adding to the area of his private land and from cultivating avena had purchased by him for a fair price as private land. This effectively prevents a zamindar from applying himself more actively, than he is at present able to do, to the pursuit of agriculture. In my opinion, it is detrimental to the economic interests of the country that a person who has got the capital to invest in agriculture and who is willing to do so should be prevented from increasing the extent of his land and should be compelled to reside on a mere receiver of rents from cultivators. Agraharholders are now entitled to acquire kudivaram interests in the lands in their estates and treat such land as private land, and even in cases in which the interest of the ryot passes to an agraharholder by inheritance, he has got the right for a period of twelve years from the date of succession, of admitting any person to the possession of such land on such terms as may be agreed upon between them. I am unable to see why a distinction should be made against other classes of landholders in this respect.

5. Although the Estates Land Act contains provisions for the recovery of rent by distress and by sale of the ryot's holding, these provisions are hedged in with so many restrictions that it is very difficult for the landlord to easily and cheaply to realize his rent, and the path of the purchaser is beset with so many obstacles that when a distressed property or a holding is sold it is not easy for him to obtain possession. One would have thought that a Bill to amend the Estates Land Act would have taken into account the grievances of the landlord in this respect and would have smoothed his path in realizing his arrears. Far from doing so, the Bill has only increased the obstacles.

6. There are numerous other defects in the Bill but it would be too long for me to refer to them here. I shall only wish that the Council will try to remedy at least some of them.

AS AMENDED BY THE SELECT COMMITTEE.

(Changes made by the Select Committee are shown in italicized type.)

BILL No. 13 OF 1931.

A Bill further to amend the Madras Estate Land Act, 1908, for certain purposes.

Madras Act 1 of 1931. WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Madras Estate Land Act, 1908, for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

AND WHEREAS the previous sanction of the Government has been obtained to the passing of this Act;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Madras Estate Land (Amendment) Act, 1931, and it shall come into force on the day of 1931.

Madras Act 1 of 1931. 1-A. In the Madras Estate Land Act, 1908 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), for the words 'pattah' and 'muchalka' wherever they occur, the words 'patia' and 'muchalka' shall respectively be substituted.

1-B. (1) In the said Act—

(a) clause (33) of section 3 shall be omitted; and
(b) in sections 188, 189, 170, 172 and 206 and clause (9) of section 215, for the word 'Revenue-officer' wherever it occurs, the word 'Collector' shall be substituted.
(2) The provisions of the said Act specified in the first two columns of the amended Schedule are hereby amended to the extent and in the manner specified in the third and fourth columns thereof.

2. In section 3 of the said Act—

(1) after clause (1), the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(1-A) 'Collector' means a Revenue Divisional Officer and includes any person appointed by the Local Government, whether by name or in virtue of his office, to exercise any of the functions of a Collector under this Act; "

(2) for sub-clause (s) of clause (3), the following sub-clause shall be substituted, namely:—

"(4) any village of which the land revenue without the kaikavaram has been granted in lease to a person not holding the kaikavaram Cherai, provided that the grant had been made, confirmed or recognized by the British Government."

(3) Omitted.

(4) to the first paragraph of clause (3), the following explanation shall be added, namely:—

Explanation.—The grantee in law, subsequent to the thirteenth day of July 1902, of land which formed part of a village in an estate and which was either unoccupied or in which there was no occupancy right on the date of the grant, shall not be deemed to be a landlord, nor shall any person holding under him be deemed to be a ryot, for all or any of the purposes of this Act; and except as otherwise specially provided in this Act, none of the provisions of this Act shall apply as between such grantee and any person holding under him.

(5) after clause (5), the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

“(5-A) ‘Locks’ means cultivable land formed by alluvial deposit or by accretion or reclamation in a river and forming part of an estate, whether such land is attached to the bank of the river or is an island in the river and whether it is permanent or not.”

“Locks.”

(6) for clause (7), the following clause shall be substituted, namely:—

“(7) ‘Old waste’ means—

“Old waste.”

(i) any lands declared under the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 20-A to be ryot land of the description old waste or

(ii) any other ryot land which—

(a) has at the time of letting by the landholder been owned and possessed by him or his predecessor in title for a continuous period of not less than ten years and has continuously remained uncultivated during the time, such period being either after or partly before and partly after the passing of this Act, or within twenty years before the passing of this Act, or

(b) has at the time of any letting by the landholder after the passing of this Act, remained without any occupancy rights being held therein at any time within a continuous period of not less than ten years immediately prior to such letting and includes ryot land in respect of which before the passing of this Act the landholder has obtained a final decree of a competent Civil court establishing that the ryot has no occupancy right and so long as no right of occupancy has been acquired subsequent to the date of such decree.²

(7) at the end of clause (10), the following shall be added, namely:—

"and includes—

(a) all land which is proved to have been cultivated as private land by the landholder himself, by his own servants or by hired labour, with his own or hired stock, for a continuous period of twelve years immediately before the commencement of this Act, and

(b) all land in an estate within the meaning of sub-clause (d) of clause (2), the entire hereditary interest in which has been acquired by the landholder before or after the commencement of this Act, provided that where such interest is acquired by succession or abandonment of the land by the ryot or by purchase at a sale for arrears of rent, the land is proved to have been cultivated as private land by the landholder himself, by his own servants or by hired labour, with his own or hired stock for a continuous period of twelve years since the acquisition of the land;"

(8) for clause (11), the following clause shall be substituted, namely:—

"(11) 'Rent' means whatever is lawfully payable in money or in kind or in both to a landholder by a ryot for the use or occupation of land for the purpose of agriculture and includes whatever is lawfully payable as an amount of water supplied by the landholder or taken without his permission for cultivation of land where the charge for water has not been associated with the charge for the use or occupation of the land.

For the purpose of sections 5, 27, 28, 39 to 72, 77 to 151, 155, 156, 157 to 159, 163, 230 and 231 and the schedule, rent includes also—

(a) any local tax, cess, fee or rate lawfully payable to a landholder by a ryot as such in addition to the rent due according to law or usage having the force of law and also waste removable under any easement for the time being in force as if it was rent; and [10] (7) sums lawfully payable to a landlord by a ryot as such on account of pasturage fees and fishery rents";

[10-A] to clause (12) the following Explanation shall be added, namely:—

"Explanation.—A person who has occupied ryot land for a continuous period of twelve years shall be deemed to be a ryot for all the purposes of this Act" and

(9) in clause (16)—

(i) for the opening paragraph beginning with the words 'Ryot land' and ending with the words 'but does not include' the following paragraph shall be substituted, namely:—

"Ryot land means cultivable land in an estate other than private land, and includes kanka land in which occupancy rights have been acquired under the provisions of sections 6-A, and kanka land which is declared by the Collector under the provisions of sub-section (3) of section 23-A to be ryot land of the description old waste, but does not include " and

(ii) for sub-clause (a), the following sub-clause shall be substituted, namely:—

"(a) beds and bands of tanks and of supply, drainage, surplus or irrigation channels.

3. Enacted.

4. For section 6 of the said Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

Enacted in of 1932 by the Legislative Assembly of Madras Act 1
of 1932.

"6. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, every ryot now in possession or who shall hereafter be admitted by a landlord to possession of ryot land not being old waste situated in the estate of such landlord shall have a permanent right of occupancy in his holding.

Occupancy
land.

Explanation (1).—For the purposes of this subsection, the expression 'every ryot now in possession' shall include every person who, having held land as a ryot, continues in possession of such land at the commencement of this Act.

Explanation (2).—Every landholder who receives or receives any payment under section 163 from any person unlawfully occupying ryoti land other than old waste shall be deemed to have thereby admitted such person into possession unless within two years from the date of receipt or recovery of payment or the first of such payments, if more than one, he shall file a suit in a Civil Court for ejectment against such person.

(3) When a ryot is admitted to the occupation of old waste, it shall be lawful for the landholder to let it on such terms as may be agreed on between them; but such admission shall not by itself confer upon the ryot so admitted a permanent right of occupancy in the land so let: Provided that this sub-section shall not affect any special rights which by law or by custom the ryots may have in the waste land of the estate.

(4) Admission to waste land under a contract for the pasturage of cattle and admission to land reserved bona fide by a landholder for raising a garden or tops or for forest under a contract for the temporary cultivation thereof with agricultural crops shall not by itself confer upon the person so admitted a permanent right of occupancy or entitle him to the benefit of section 157; nor shall such land, by reason only of such letting or temporary cultivation, become ryoti land.

objection of the municipal council or local board, as the case may be, or on a direction from the Local Government, shall apply to the district judge having jurisdiction over the municipal area or the place where the office of the legal board is situated, as the case may be.

(2) The said judge, after making such enquiry as he deems necessary, shall decide whether or not such person has ceased to hold his office as member and such decision shall be final.

(3) Until an application has been made under sub-section (1) and a decision thereon has been obtained, such person shall be entitled to act as if he had not ceased to hold his office as member under this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The main object of the Bill is to remove the doubts that have arisen regarding the interpretation of sub-section (2) of section 2 and sub-section (2) of section 4 of Madras Act XI of 1922 as to the time within which a member of a municipal council or local board may make the oath or affirmation of his allegiance. The intention of the Legislature obviously was to permit a person elected to a municipal council or local board to take the oath or affirmation of office within three months from the date on which his term of office commences or at one of the first three meetings held after that date, whichever is later. The amendments proposed in sections 2 and 4 make the intention clear.

The Act does not provide a tribunal for the decision of disputes as to whether or not a person has vacated his office as member under sub-section (2) of section 2 or sub-section (2) of section 4. It is considered desirable to remedy this defect by inserting a provision on the lines of section 64 of the District Municipalities Act and section 57 of the Local Boards Act. New section 5-B added by clause 5 carries out this object.

The opportunity has been taken to effect certain changes which are consequential on the passing of the Madras District Municipalities (Amendment) Act, 1930 (Madras Act X of 1930), and the Madras Local Boards (Amendment) Act, 1930 (Madras Act XI of 1930). The Acts as amended do not provide for the "appointment" of members to municipal councils and local boards and the references to "appointed members" are therefore sought to be omitted. But as all local boards under the Local Boards Act as amended have not been reconstituted yet, power has been taken to enable the Local Government to bring into operation the amendments in sections 4 and 5 in so far as they seek to omit references to appointed members of local boards on a date to be appointed by notification so that these provisions may be brought into operation after all local boards have been reconstituted.

The amendments to the Explanation to section 3-2, are purely consequential on the amendment of the District Municipalities and Local Boards Acts and do not call for any comment.

2nd August 1933.
